April 2014

Narrabeen State Park is finally here!

Friends President Tony Carr paid tribute to our 1,246 members and supporters for their enthusiasm and encouragement during the campaign. “This is an important step in fulfilling the organisation’s primary goal, which is to secure permanent protection for the remaining bushland in the Narrabeen Lagoon Catchment. It demonstrates the State Government’s willingness to legislate for environmental protection.”

NSW Planning Bills

During March, the proposed Planning Bills were to have been the subject of debate in NSW Parliament. There have been wide-spread protests about these proposed changes throughout NSW led by the Better Planning Network in which over 400 community groups are affiliated. Friends has provided financial support for this campaign.

April 1, 2014 – a day of celebration for Friends as Deputy Premier Andrew Stoner announces the establishment of Narrabeen State Park. The new Park incorporates Narrabeen Lagoon and surrounding areas, which will include all of the multi-purpose trail around the lagoon foreshores. Mr Stoner said the creation of the Park reflected the significance of the lagoon and surrounding public lands to the people of NSW. A map of the park can be found on the Friends website.

Friends attention will now focus on the Gai-mariagal proposal for an Aboriginal owned National Park over much of the land under threat in the catchment. Last week members of the committee met with Government representatives to move this forward. Friends is supporting the Metropolitan Local Aboriginal Land Council proposal, which is now under consideration by the Government.

State Government will appoint an Advisory Committee that will include community members to set the direction for the new park.

Banner no longer needed! Rob Stokes MP, who championed the State Park concept for us and Friends President Tony Carr put the scissors through a campaign banner.

It is pleasing to see that safety fencing, campaigned for by Friends members Jim Somerville and Michael Bucknell has now been installed on both sides of the Pittwater Road bridge where it crosses Narrabeen Lagoon. The fencing protects pedestrians and cyclists from road traffic.
Make the most of Autumn outdoors!

Narrabeen Lagoon Catchment - unique

Brookvalia gracilis is one of no fewer than twenty-eight species of fossil fishes found at the former quarry that was at the top of Beacon Hill where there is now a sports field. This site was, in ancient times, the bed of a lagoon surrounded by sand hills. Another interesting species found at Beacon Hill is Ceratodus formosus which is of fairly common occurrence in Triassic rocks.
